

Salvador Chili Bridge

Overview

The large-scale cable-stayed sea bridge will connect Salvador to Itaparica Island, forming one of the most significant infrastructure corridors in Latin America. Moreover, the project continues to reflect Brazil's growing collaboration with Chinese engineering firms. Situated at the opening of the Atlantic Ocean in Brazil's north-eastern state of Bahia, the island is known for its natural beauty and ancestral traditions. Imagem: IA 5 people reacted to this. 4 km over the sea and R$ 11 billion in investment, the Salvador-Itaparica Bridge will be the largest bridge. The state government of Bahia and a consortium of Chinese companies signed a contract amendment on Wednesday (4) for the construction of the Salvador-Itaparica bridge, a major infrastructure project set to connect the city of Salvador to Itaparica Island, in the Bay of All Saints. The amendment. On April 4, in the Bay of Todos-os-Santos (Bahia, Brazil), the closing ceremony of the geotechnical survey campaign for the Salvador-Itaparica Bridge took place — a project in which Sener has played a key role.
